

Cuts in education

We just know that 2011 budget dedicated to education, will suffer a cut of about 1,800 million euros. That is, once again our politicians are guilty of shortsighted and resort to easy and fast in what looks like a race to see who takes the biggest cut, which, however, is the most expensive medium and long term.

It's like parents who go through a difficult economic situation, they decide that the best way to cut costs and make ends meet, is to cut the budget in feeding their children. You do not need to eat three or four times a day, much creativity is needed to know that two is enough. Thus drastically reduce costs, but also mortgage the future of their children precisely when it is most needed them. When they are growing, thus condemning them to poor growth that guarantees them be the first to fall in future disease.

what they are doing our politicians. Yes, spending on education is high, but they do not have the creativity needed to trim here is the best guarantee to suffer before other future economic and confront them worse off than other countries, taking longer to get out of it Crisis .

Unfortunately our government is not up to par, and do not realize what are the pillars of a society of progress and protect us. Other advanced countries have long realized this. So when the crisis came, cut costs many places, except three, education, health and research and development.
